

Welcome to Thoulstone Park

Natural Burial Meadow

The Burial Meadow sits within the 150-acre site founded on the core principles of sustainability, community and wellbeing.

The Meadow at Thoulstone Park offers a unique resting place — one that nurtures both remembrance and renewal. Here, every farewell contributes to the preservation and enhancement of biodiversity.

In death, there is life.

Life at Thoulstone Park is vibrant and ever-present, from the richness of the surrounding ecology to the laughter of people enjoying games or sharing stories over a cup of tea.

If you see life and death as two sides of the same coin, The Meadow at Thoulstone Park may be the perfect resting place for you or your loved ones

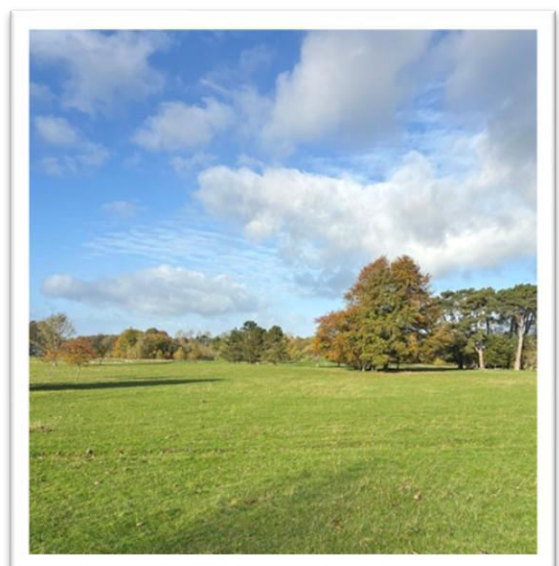

The Meadow at Thoulstone Park provides a natural burial space thoughtfully integrated into the rural landscape, supporting both the environment and the local community. Funerals can be held with guidance from funeral directors/advisers or independently, honouring the departed with dignity. Managed by Mary Cross of Organic Matters, the site embraces sustainable practices — from willow coffins to locally grown flowers — creating a serene, environmentally conscious resting place. Mary makes willow coffins from her workshop in Nunney and is passionate about bringing this part of Thoulstone Park to life!

Ecology

A natural burial is the most ecological funeral option available - an enduring, thoughtful legacy for future generations.

The burial area will be part of the larger Thoulstone Park Meadow, which supports livestock grazing and the conservation of local flora.

Moreover, the natural burial area offers a space that fosters community well-being, encouraging engagement with nature, the outdoors and supporting mental health by providing a dedicated, serene setting for reflection and remembrance.

For Thoulstone Park Natural Burial meadow to maintain a respectful space which allows nature to thrive we ask everyone to abide by our rules and regulations which can be found on our website. By agreeing to these on your 'interment form' you are entering into a burial contract with Thoulstone Park Natural Burial Meadow.

Memorials

To maintain the natural state of the burial meadow, graves are not marked. A memorial plaque bearing the name of the deceased, date of birth and date of death can be purchased and displayed in our Memorial Board situated in the gathering area. This can be done at the time of the burial or later. More information on our website and costs at the end of this information pack.

One of the best pieces of advice we can give is to let your loved ones know what arrangements you want when you die. Visit our website and download a really useful document where you can record your advance funeral wishes.

Natural Burial

Natural burial, sometimes called 'green' or woodland burial, is an environmentally conscious alternative to traditional burial. The practice began in the UK in the 1990s, rooted in the idea that only natural, biodegradable materials are used, and that the burial ground itself is managed to create, preserve, and enhance habitats.

Natural burial offers a gentle, meaningful way to say goodbye—one that leaves a lasting legacy of care for future generations and the world around us.

Key Features

- Biodegradable Coffins & Shrouds

Made from natural materials such as willow (wicker), wood or cloth, ensuring they return gently to the earth. Anything placed in the grave must be biodegradable including clothing.

- No Embalming (unless in exceptional circumstances, please see our Rules & Regulations)

Bodies are laid to rest without harmful chemicals, protecting the soil and groundwater.

- Plastic-Free

From coffin linings to floral tributes, everything is free from plastics and synthetic materials.

- Unmarked Graves with Digital Mapping

Graves remain unmarked to preserve the landscape. Families are provided with precise GPS coordinates and what3words addresses for location. Graves can be flagged if advance notice of a visit is given.

- Landscape Protection

Burial grounds are carefully maintained as thriving habitats for local wildlife and native plants. At Thoulstone Park there is a permissive footpath for you to access the burial meadow. Dogs must be kept on leads at all times as sheep are free to roam and graze.

- A Return to Nature

As the body decomposes naturally, at a shallower depth than traditional burials, it enriches the soil, contributing to the cycle of life.

We welcome people of all faiths and backgrounds. Services here are unhurried, allowing the freedom to create a ceremony that truly reflects the person being remembered — without the constraints often found in traditional burial options.

You may wish to employ the services of a funeral director or advisor, but this is not a legal requirement. We have a list of recommended funeral directors who abide by our 'Code of Conduct' which can be found on our website.

Arranging a burial

At Thoulstone Park Natural Burial Meadow we accept full coffin/shroud burials and ashes interments.

Before the burial
If you haven't already visited the Thoulstone Park Natural Burial Meadow, then we suggest you do that at your earliest convenience by contacting Mary to arrange a suitable time.
- Once a death has been certified a representative (the 'applicant') would let Mary know - the name of the deceased, - a preferred date for the funeral, - their own contact details and - any prior purchase information such as a reserved plot. This can be done by submitting the contact form on the website or by calling her on 07899 065364.
You will need to decide if you would like to make the arrangements yourselves or ask a funeral director to do this. We have a list of funeral directors & advisors on our website who adhere to our 'code of conduct' with regards to coffin & shroud manufacture and embalming prohibitions. If you choose to arrange the burial yourselves, please take some time to familiarise yourselves with what is involved, you will find a wealth of information on the Natural Death Centre website.
Provisional confirmation - If the preferred date is free and the gravedigger is available, you would be informed of any events at Thoulstone Park which may affect your decision. If we are all in agreement, we would provisionally confirm the booking.
Submit relevant forms – You will find our 'burial rights and interment form' at the end of this information pack, or it can be completed as an online form on our website. This needs to be completed by the 'applicant', this is the person who is responsible for any further contact. This form gives us all the details we need to proceed with a burial and this should be completed as soon as possible, at least three days before the event.
Alongside your interment form, we need the following documents where relevant, scanned and emailed to Mary to proceed - - A copy of the Registrar's Certificate for burial or cremation (Green form) - essential - A cremation certificate for ashes interment – if required - Coroners order for burial if necessary – if required
Full payment is required by bank transfer before a burial or ashes interment can take place. A receipt will be issued to confirm all in order. Our price list can be found at the end of this document and should be completed with the relevant information and returned with the interment form
Once payment is confirmed, the applicant will be sent a letter detailing 'What to expect on the day' information such as, where to meet and any advice such as suitable clothing and footwear. They will be given and asked to share information relevant to the day such as to bring foldable chairs for those who may have trouble standing and instruction on parking for those less able.

- Choose your ancillary services from our list of recommended local providers on our website, coffin and shroud producers, celebrants and florists. Alternatively, you may have a personal connection or choose to do your flowers or lead the ceremony yourselves. You can obviously let a funeral director do all of this for you or personalise as much as you please. A good funeral director should allow you make these choices if important to you. Please note any funeral director you choose must adhere to our 'code of conduct'
- Grave digging and preparation for interment - We need to know the exact true measurements of the coffin or ashes casket to give to the grave digger. This information will be requested on the interment form. The grave will be prepared by our grave digger at a depth of 1.3 metres generally the day before and for ashes 0.5 metres.
- Wakes can be arranged in various formats at Thoulstone Park and would be booked directly with the chosen venue.
 - The Pavillion Café – who offer a hot or cold finger buffet.
catering@thoulstonepavilion.co.uk
 - Hire of the Range for a more formal event - info@thoulstonepark.com
 - Hire of the Marquee for the ceremony and/or wake - info@thoulstonepark.com
 - A simple picnic in the Glade either catered for by the Pavillion or bring your own.
info@thoulstonepark.com and catered for by The Pavillion Cafe
- Embalming involves preserving the body with chemicals and is generally incompatible with natural burial due to its environmental impact. We would only accept embalmed remains in exceptional circumstances, e.g. repatriation.
- Plot allocation and reservation of an adjacent plot - Our plots are available as single-depth. Double plots are available arranged side by side, offering families the option of adjacent graves. For double plots, payment for the second plot may be made in full or through a monthly standing order over 10 or 20 months. Please note that an additional administration charge applies to instalment plans. If undecided, we can provisionally reserve it for 1 year, after which it may be offered to others. We will allocate plots unless a reserved plot is required. Religious burial directional requirements will be honoured. The plot will be located for you if you would like to visit before the day of the burial.
- The death of a child is something no parent should have to deal with. You may choose to enlist the services of a funeral director to support you, but we are here to help in any way we can if you choose not to. The cost of the plot and grave digging are covered by the Children's Funeral Fund for England. You will find more information www.gov.uk/child-funeral-costs. We or a funeral director can claim this back on your behalf. Only administrative costs and optional services are payable.

On the day of the burial

- The funeral party will be met in the main Thoulstone Park car park and shown where to go relevant to their choice of proceedings, i.e. graveside or gathering area ceremony. Mary will remain on hand at all times.
- If arranged by a funeral director, they would generally manage proceedings with regards to the hearse, carrying the coffin and instructing any relatives in how to do this if appropriate. If no funeral director involved, then Mary would assist with this.
- If the family choose to, they can assist with back filling the soil, this process will be finished off by the grave digger and the turf re-laid. You may wish to add petals or flowers into the grave before interment.
- Ceremonies can be held either at the graveside or in the existing mown gathering area that overlooks the meadow. There is a small, covered area with a firepit that can be used should the weather be against you. There will be no time limit on these areas other than the park opening hours although an estimate of time will have been requested on the Interment form. If one of our partner venues have been pre-booked, then time constraints may apply.
- Dogs can offer great comfort at funerals and are allowed in the Meadow but must be kept on a lead at all times as sheep are free to graze. Please clear up any waste. A pet's ashes may be included at the time of interment at no extra cost, this must be stated on the interment form.
- Music - there is no power at the burial meadow or the gathering area so please ensure your speaker system is loud enough to be clearly heard. Acoustic music is always a beautiful accompaniment to a ceremony.
- Sensible attire - Please bear in mind that you are walking into a sheep grazed meadow via a mown sloping path from the gathering area, so suitable footwear is a must and sensible clothing to cater for our British weather. As Alfred Wainwright once said, 'There is no such thing as bad weather, only unsuitable clothing'.
- Tributes - floral tributes or other objects can be placed inside the grave with the coffin/shroud or ashes casket but nothing non-biodegradable - no plastic, wire or oasis is permitted. Why not take your flowers home with you to enjoy! A simple posy of flowers can be left on the grave as long as the strict guidelines of point no 11 of Burial Ground R&R's have been adhered to.

After the event

- Mary will email the applicant with the following;
 - Two copies of the Certificate of Interment which will include the exact location of the grave. Both should be signed and one returned to Mary in the provided SAE.
 - A location map of the grave. Information on how to locate the grave can be found on our website.
- Mary will post you a feedback form with an SAE from the Association of Natural Burial Grounds which should be returned to them directly. However, should you have any concerns at all we would ask you to please let Mary know as quickly as possible so any issues can be resolved.
- There is year-round access to the burial meadow and the memorial board in the gathering area within the opening times of Thoulstone Park via a permissive footpath.
